Iranians Celebrate Nowruz 2568 at the Tomb Of Cyrus The Great!

Iranians celebrated Nowruz, the Persian New Year 2568 (equal to 1388 Jalali calendar equal to 20 of March). Nowruz is the festival of Spring and the beginning of the Persian new year. Many of Iranians from all corners of Iran have come together in Pasargad, the Tomb of Cyrus the Great at Persepolis, to celebrate their new year with the father of Iran and founder of the Persian Empire, Cyrus the Great.